Luke 14:25-35

Who Cannot Be His Disciple?

Repeated three times: vs. 26, 27, &33

One who does not hate family and own life: vs. 26

One who does bear his own cross and come after me: vs. 27

One who does not renounce all he has: vs. 33

"Cannot" as permission or ability?

Counting the Cost

Building a tower: vs. 28-30

Considering engaging in battle or asking for peace: vs. 31-32

The slight difference between the two scenarios (Leon Morris)

Good Salt

Sodium Chloride cannot but taste salty

So "salt" that loses its saltiness is a "salt mix" in which the sodium chloride has been extracted This leftover assortment of minerals is randomized and unfit for specific function Following Jesus is sodium chloride and will have salt-like impact on the world: see Matt 5:13-16 Faux discipleship is like the leftover assortment: it is an ineffective mixture: Revelation 3:16

How Does All This Metaphor Translate into My Actual Daily Existence?

Were I given the choice I would give all for Jesus; imagination and desire

What particular behaviors in my current life exist only as obedient responses to Jesus?

The choice of the will, marked by a covenant (baptism)

The only tongue that can tell if we are really the salt we think we are is Jesus: 1 Cor 4:1-5

With humans this is impossible, but with God all things are possible: Matthew 19:23-26
